

AZIZ AGHILI
Vice President and General Manager, Aperture Systems
Light Vehicle Systems

Aziz Aghili is the vice president and general manager of Aperture Systems within ArvinMeritor's Light Vehicle Systems (LVS) business group. In this position, he is responsible for leading the door systems business as it consolidates with roof systems into one cohesive organization that will ultimately identify best practices, process improvements, and mutual product development synergies. Prior to taking this position in July 2007, he was the vice president of LVS China.

Aghili joined the company in 1989 as a manager of Engineering for Rockwell Automotive in Melbourne, Australia. In his 16 years with ArvinMeritor, he has held several roles of increasing responsibility within LVS, including director of Operations and business liaison in Asia/Pacific; general manager of Service Parts; vice president of Global Purchasing and Vice President China. Prior to this experience, Aghili spent three years working for GE Plastics in Melbourne, Australia, as a manager of Engineering and then Marketing for the Australia region. He also worked at Nissan Motor Manufacturing in Melbourne, as a product engineer and then a senior product engineer.

He holds a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Teesside Polytechnic in Middlesbrough, U.K., and a post-graduate diploma in business administration from the Australian Graduate School of Management at the University of New South Wales in Melbourne. He also holds a graduate diploma in international management from the INSEAD Business School of Management in Fontainebleau, France. Aghili is fluent in Turkish, Farsi and Arabic.

ArvinMeritor, Inc. is a premier global supplier of a broad range of integrated systems, modules and components to the motor vehicle industry. The company serves light vehicle, commercial truck, trailer and specialty original equipment manufacturers and certain aftermarkets.
